LOCAL BRIEFS.

Blount street is now a favorite drive.

The new Court House seems to be dead.

Vegetable Soup at Tommy Harrison's to-day.

An insignificant skirmish took place on Wilmington street yesterday afternoon.

We learn that a Jockey Club is about to be organized in this city.

This city will be largely represented at the coming ball at Kittrells.

Mr. J. C. L. Harriss yesterday evening brought into our office two bolls of cotton grown upon his farm just east of the city. How is this for high?

We are indebted to Theo. Snow, Esq., for some splendid specimens of Scottish oats, grown on his farm three miles south-west of this city. They are nearly four feet high and present quite a contrast to the native oats.

The up train over the Raleigh and Gaston road yesterday was detained until near 10 o'clock last night, owing to some breakage to the engine when near Littleton. No material damage was done.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Rideout, the fireman that was wounded on the excursion to Fayetteville is improving, and it is now thought that by good management, one of his eyes can be saved.

A. D. Jenkins, Esq., the Teller of the Treasury Department, left the city yesterday morning for an extended Northern tour. Mr. Jenkins has made quite an efficient officer, and always at his post. We wish him a pleasant and profitable journey.

The total debt of the United States Government is $2,276,839,646.02, with $129,020,932.45 in the Treasury to pay it off. According to published statements, Grant has decreased the debt $92,000,000 per annum in the past three years. At this rate it will take about twenty-five years to pay it off.

THE EDENTON STREET METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The Christian Advocate of this week contains a lengthy report of W. J. Young, Esq., the very efficient Superintendent of the Edenton Street Methodist Sunday School, from which we clip the following extract, as showing its condition:

"We congratulate the friends of the Sunday School upon the encouraging character of the report which we submit on this occasion.

We are gratified to state that the prosperity that has marked the progress of the school during the past twelve months has exceeded that of any previous year of its history. This is attributable, in a great degree, to the faithful and energetic labors of my coworkers in the school.

The number now connected with the school is 390, and classified as follows:

Superintendents, (2 male and 1 female)	3
Librarians,	2
Teachers, (13 male and 27 female,)	40
Scholars, (183 male and 162 female,)	345
Total, deducting teacher reported as female superintendent,	$390

There are 38 classes, two of which are denominated Bible classes, 34 in main school, one infant class and strangers class. The Bible classes number 26, the main school 257, the infant class 62, and regular attendants in strangers' class, besides strangers, three.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME."—If there is anything in a name, we don't say there is, Bro. Gray, of the Christian Advocate should transfer his valuable services over to the Biblical Recorder, merely to keep up the regular order. Several years ago Mr. Black was one of the associate editors of that paper, and at the same time Mr. Brown was a regular contributor. During the reign of Bro. Mills, Mr. White was associate editor, but was soon superceded by Mr. Green, who was a member of the editorial staff when Mr. Redd bought the paper. The Recorder only need Bro. Gray to complete the list.

RETIRED.—The many friends of Mr. A. J. Parten, the clever and accommodating manager of the National Hotel of this city will learn with regret that he has retired from that position in order to take another more agreeable and lucrative. The National under his administration was deservedly popular, and was fast building up a reputation second to no hotel in the South. We wish Mr. Partin great success in his change.

KITTRELL SPRINGS.—This popular resort is rapidly filling up with invalids and pleasure seekers. The waters at Kittrells are now considered by ladies a sine qua non, and are sought after with the avidity of a drunkard seeking his cup of the ardent.

STATE OF THE THERMOMETER.—The Thermometer yesterday was as follows at Branson's Book Store:

At 9 a. m.	78
At 12 m.	83
At 3 p. m.	78
At 6 p. m.	74

THE DAILY NEWS.

VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 9, 1873. NO. 115.

THE LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY—The Rev. Mr. Smedes, the officiating minister at Christ's Episcopal Church, last Sunday evening, announced a meeting of the "Ladies' Relief Society" to take place some evening during the week. We were anxious to find out what was the Ladies' Relief Society of Raleigh, but fortunately, before we had time to investigate, the following communication from an esteemed lady correspondent came to hand. We publish it for information of all:

Messrs. Editors:—Again permit a friend of the poor to call your attention to the Ladies Relief Society of Raleigh.

A family in the Eastern Ward, just deprived of their home and clothing, by fire, were promptly supplied by this Society with a goodly number of ready made clothing and pecuniary aid. The clothes were made by the poor of the Society.

When our citizens generally have the objects and efforts of this Society made duly known to them, they may be induced to contribute to its funds and cooperate with its benevolent plans, especially as no recipient of its benefits is ever asked to what denomination they belong. Although the officers of this Society are members of Christ Church in this city, and the Rector of that church is their counsellor and guide, yet there are very few of the beneficiaries of the Society who belong to that church, most of them belong to other denominations.

The objects of the Society are to aid and encourage the industrious, to prompt the indolent to action, to comfort and relieve the sick and afflicted, and supply the needy and disabled throughout the city of Raleigh.

The city is divided into wards, and faithful officers placed in charge of each ward, whose duty it is to visit every family regularly at stated periods; taking care to inform themselves of their condition, capabilities and wants.

In every ward of the city, also, persons are appointed to make collections for the funds of the Society.

On a recent occasion a young gentleman of Raleigh made the liberal donation of $20 to this useful society. May his good example be followed by all who are possessed of the gifts of a gracious and merciful Providence, remembering that, "he who giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord," and will most assuredly be repaid ten-fold.

On a former occasion, Messrs. Editors, when I called your attention to this Society your obliging notice caused the authorities of the Penitentiary to place in the hands of the agent of this Society, at the Repository on Edenton street, a number of suits of clothes to be made.

On the appointed day the articles were all promptly delivered to the officers of the Penitentiary, and done, as he said, to his entire satisfaction.

Now, Messrs. Editors, if you would induce the authorities of the Penitentiary to place the whole of their sewing in the hands of the Society's very efficient agent, it would be a real benefaction to the poor of Raleigh; and added to the benevolent co-operation of a liberal community, suffering and begging would very soon cease to disturb our peace.

There is one very satisfactory feature in the management of this Society, that is, that their employers may be well assured, and will be guaranteed, that not one article will be entrusted to the incompetent or unreliable, nor will any but the really needy be suffered to take the work.

No person or set of persons will be allowed to monopolize the work or profits, but it will be fairly and impartially distributed among the needy poor.

P. S. Miss Sykes, the Agent of the Society, has just informed the writer of this article, that at least $10 worth of clothing was given to the family recently burnt out in the Eastern Ward.

A FRIEND TO THE POOR.

JONAS, THE FIREMEN'S DOG.—Every man, woman and child in the city of Raleigh that ever witnessed a parade of our firemen knows Jonas, the firemen's dog. Jonas is the first at a fire; always leading the foremost company, always promptly at parade and even attends the monthly meetings of the companies. 'Tis said by some that Jonas even knows the members of the Fire Brigade by name, but this statement we are not prepared to vouch for. The following communication in regard to Jonas we gladly give space to:

Editor News:—Our attention being called to the "Notice to Owners of Dogs" by Chief of Police King, we would most respectfully request the city fathers to amend that portion of the dog ordnance passed at the last regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners in favor of "Jonas," the fireman's dog. Although a dog

"You'l never find
A better friend
Than old dog Jonas."

Jonas having been an active and efficient member of the fire department for lo these many moons, we think that he is justly entitled to all privileges and exemptions accorded to other firemen. Trusting this may meet the eye and approbation of the honorable Board, we sign ourselves. MANY FIREMEN.

THE LOVEJOY ACADEMY.—We invite the attention of our readers, especially parents and guardians, to the advertisement of the opening, on the 24th inst., of this Academy. The Principals, J. M. Lovejoy and J. M. White, are polished gentlemen and accomplished scholars. Mr. Lovejoy is too well known throughout the State to need a word of commendation at our hands. Years ago he earned a reputation in this State as an able instructor, a polished gentleman and a thoroughly good man.

THE FARMER'S GRANGE.—The several county Granges will meet in this city to-day to organize the State Grange. It is understood that over thirty Granges will be represented. Having said our "say" on this subject, we consider it unnecessary to repeat. The meeting will take place at Metropolitan Hall, commencing at 11 o'clock.

ASSISTANT BISHOP LYMAN.—The San Francisco Pacific Churchman, the organ of the Episcopal Church in California, has the following in regard to Rev. Theodore B. Lyman, the Assistant Bishop elect of the Episcopal Church of this State:

"The Rev. Dr. Lyman, Rector of Trinity Church in this city, has accepted the Assistant Bishopric of the diocese of North Carolina, to which he was elected last month. The departure of Dr. Lyman will be a severe loss. All who know what the condition of the Diocese, and especially that of the church in this city, was, four or five years ago, and have watched the progress and changes which have taken place since then, will appreciate the nature and extent of the loss. To no one man more than to the present rector of Trinity Church is due the improved condition, increased life and harmonious working of the Church in San Francisco, now so apparent. From the first his face was firmly set against the spirit of jealousy and congregationalism which so largely prevailed. In this connection we especially recall to our mind a little speech which he made in the Church Union, shortly after his arrival, and soon after that a sermon before the Southern Convocation, at a meeting held in the Church of the Advent in this city. In fact, Dr. Lyman's whole course in this diocese has been one of broad-minded, whole-souled zeal for the building up of the church by the promotion of activity in all departments of the work. He is a member, and latterly President of the Standing Committee, a member of the Board of Missions and Trustee of St. Augustine's College, and the Church Home. Prior to his election as Bishop, he had made all arrangements to visit his sons in England this summer, to be gone two or three months. This plan he still intends carrying out, and expects to leave this city with his family for the East on Tuesday, the 1st of July, and has taken passage from Baltimore for Europe, to sail July 19th. His address, we learn, until the latter date, will be Albert & Bro., Baltimore, Md."

SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.—The question of the expediency of organizing a "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals" has often been agitated in this city but nothing has been done to put the ball in motion. In our opinion Raleigh is really more in need of such an organization than London or New York, for the cruelty to animals is so prevalent and its enormity so great that the relations of some of the instances that daily occur on the principal streets of the city would make a barbarian blush.

Monday evening a poor dog was caught by some one or two men and so punished that the dog ran, and yelled, rolled and rubbed. The cry of mad dog was raised and he was killed by almost slow torture—all this on Fayetteville street.

EDUCATIONAL.—The Educational Convention will meet in the Commons' Hall, in the Capitol, to day at 10 A. M. Addresses will be delivered in the forenoon by Rev. B. Craven and others. Judge Merrimon will lecture at 8 o'clock P. M., on "The Necessity for Universal Public Education." The public are invited to attend.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.—The following members of the bar reached the city yesterday to attend the Supreme Court:

Col. A, A. McCoy, Col. T. B. Venable, Capt. Swift Galloway, Hugh F. Murray, Esq., and Col Walter Clark.

Maj. W. J. Baker, of Norfolk, Wm. T. Askew, of Lenoir, and Dr. B. F. Arrington, of Goldsboro, are registered at the Yarboro.

Col. D. Wyatt Aiken reached the city last night.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

By an ordinance of the City of Raleigh, passed at the last regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners, I am required, after the 10th inst., to have impounded all canines caught in the street upon which the city tax has not been paid; and after the expiration of two days, if the owners of the impounded dogs do not come forward and pay the tax and the cost of impounding, to dispatch them. This ordinance I shall put in immediate execution.

In order to protect dogs upon which the tax has been paid, I have obtained collar badges, and the same can be had upon application by owners of dogs whenever a tax receipt, signed by the City Clerk, is exhibited. All dogs found without this badge will be impounded. Owners will therefore save trouble and expense by applying immediately for the badges.

The sum of fifty cents will be paid by the city to any person for the capture and delivery at the city pound, of any dog going at large without the tax badge.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Account of the Damage by the Recent Storm.

CINCINNATI, July 8.—The following accounts of damages to crops and buildings and the estimated loss by the recent rains has been received here: In Ohio, through Fayette county, the wheat and corn has been seriously damaged, many trees uprooted and one barn demolished. Loss estimated at $30,000 outside of the crops. In Washington county the crops were considerably beaten down and the extent of the loss cannot be made, reports not being sufficiently full. In Belmont county several acres of timber were destroyed. For miles around, in Belmont, nearly all the fences were blown down, admitting stock into the grain fields. The wheat and corn were flattened out in the vicinity of Cardington, on Thursday and Friday. The storm leveled field fences. Many valuable orchards were ruined in Franklin county. The loss is estimated at from 50,000 to 100,000 dollars. The bottom lands were covered with water, destroying the crops. Part of the canal in the town of Winchester is under water, compelling some of the firms to stop business in the Southern portion of Licking county. Crops of all kinds are badly damaged. The Newark, Somerset and Strasville road suffered severely, 25 miles of the track washed out and several bridges destroyed. In Clinton county the grain in the shock and that standing in the field were alike prostrated, making it necessary to raise greater portion of it by hand. In the Southern portion of Greene county the wheat crops suffured severely. The loss is estimated at from 15 to 20 per cent. In other portions of the county the loss is considerably lighter. The weather is still showery, and unless it clears up soon the crop which is dead ripe, will be greatly injured. In Muskingum county, Zanesville, Washington, Berry, Wayne and Knox townships suffered a loss of damage to the growing crop, not less than $10,000, besides a heavy loss of timber. In the southern part of Butler county the rain did much damage to crops, and a large lot of timber was also blown down. In Starke county the damage was great. In Union county, the wheat crop was damaged throughout, especially along the creeks, where whole fields were destroyed. In Pickaway county, crops were destroyed and washed away; the loss will proximate one hundred thousand dollars. To this may be added Brown county—corn within three miles of Circleville, damaged $25,000. In Athens county, at Nelsonville, the Hocking River overflowed and inundated the lower part of the town. A large number of families were compelled to leave their houses and contents and fly for life, so sudden and unexpected did the flood come. Crops in the bottom lands are a total loss. The damage to crops is estimated at $10,000. A great number of families living along the river in the vicinity of Athens were compelled to move to higher grounds. The Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad track was covered with water too deep to allow the passage of trains. In Fairfield county the loss of public and private property is estimated at over half a million dollars. On many of the low farms everything was swept away but the buildings. The Hocking canal cannot be repaired, having fifteen large breaks within a distance of twenty-five miles. Bremen canal was six feet under water on the morning of the fourth instant. Four bridges of the Cincinnati and Muskingum, and the Cincinnati and Hocking Valley Railroad were wrecked. The Hocking Canal and River were made one by the numerous breaks. In the southeast part of Indiana severe losses are reported. In Union County the crops are damaged 10 to 15 per cent. In Reply County wheat suffered badly. In Decatur County wheat will yield but a fourth of a crop. In Shelby County two-thirds of the wheat is lost. In Dearborn County the loss to the crops will be far up in the thousands. The same reports come from Fayette County. Corn will yield but three-fourths of a crop.

Customs Regulations.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—A dispatch received at the State Department from Hon. Daniel E. Sickles, United States Minister to Spain, encloses additional customs regulations promulgated by the Spanish Government for the Peninsular. The Decree is dated June 5th, and will be enforced against all vessels coming from the Atlantic ports of the United States after the expiration of three months after date of publication, and four months after that date for all vessels coming from the Pacific ports. Minister Sickles, in his dispatch, says it is observed that this decree, although containing provisions tending to embarrass the legitimate commerce of the ports of the Peninsula, recognizes and debates several principles contended for in my correspondence with this Government concerning the relations with Cuba. Only one manifest is required, instead of three, if the manifest agrees with the bill of lading. The fine which is incurred is for only an infraction of the regulation in describing a consignment is imposed on the consignees of goods and not on vessels. And Spanish Consuls are prohibited from certifying manifests which are not properly made out, they are, besides, required to note a mistake and amendments and to report to the Custom authorities of the port to which the vessels is bound all manifests they certify.

Foreign.

LONDON, July 8.—Eighteen Norwegians belonging to the German Arctic Navigation Company's service, who were left on Spitzenberger were found dead by the party which went to their assistance.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 8.—Details from the wreck of the City of Washington, state that she left Liverpool on the 24th of June, and saw neither sun or stars during the passage. It was impossible to make observations. When she struck, Saturday p. m., objects could not be seen three yards ahead. She was going at 9 knots an hour when she stranded. Perfect order prevailed, 28 cabin and 481 steerrage passengers safely landed by the ship's boats and small craft attracted by the steamer's guns. The sea was calm, the distance to the main land one quarter mile distant. The vessel's escape from total destruction with all on board was Providential.

Transactions in Bonds.

NEW YORK, July 8.—In Southern bonds the only transactions at the Board was the sale of $500 of old Tennessees at 80¼. Enquiry was for bonds of old railroads and lines recently completed or about to be, and which promised a profitable business. Old bonds are held firmly at high prices.

Weather Probabilities.

SAM'L T. WILLIAMS, Political Editor.

WEDNESDAY.....JULY 9, 1873.

VIRGINIA wants a State Geologist. Her last Legislature thought the State too poor to pay for this officer, although she has untold stores of undeveloped mineral resources.

PRESIDENT GRANT has a piece of his handiwork, as a tanner, on exhibition at Vienna. We wonder if the President has forwarded to the Exhibition any of his "reconstruction policies."

THE verdict in the Walworth case, it is said, was perfectly satisfactory to the young murderer. He doubtless expected the gallows, and now awaits Executive clemency. Feminine sympathy is developing itself towards the youthful offender.

A VIRGINIA exchange wants the Knights of Pythias to change their name to "Knights of Nadler," because of the recent affair in Brooklyn, wherein two cousins attempted suicide because they both loved the same "vidder." Young Nadler died of his poison, but his cousin lived, and will doubtless marry the woman that neither had the heart to take away from the other.

A FAMOUS English scholar has discovered that the English language embraces two hundred thousand words; that Shakespeare only used fifteen thousand of these, that Milton only used seven thousand, and that the newspaper world only uses some three thousand. Thus the ordinary English reader only comes in contact with about one seventh of the words belonging to his language.

THE "UNIFICATION" PROGRAMME OF GENERAL BEAUREGARD.

Gen. Beauregard has published in the New Orleans Times a lengthy letter defending the recent political position taken by himself and explaining his notions. He says he has been made the subject of ungracious and illiberal observations because of his support of "resolutions recommending a closer union of all the members of the permanent population of the State to promote faithful administration and wise and prudent legislation." He argues that the laws of the State of Louisiana allow to all persons, of whatever color, equal civil and political rights and privileges, no preference being given on account of complexion, capacity, employment, pursuits, or the holding of property, to any individual or class. His proposition is to unite the various conditions of men into a common effort to improve the condition of the State; to remove, if it can be done, all questions that are special to any of these conditions from the contest, and to fix the hearts of all upon higher and more important aims. He says that the denial by the whites of the claims of the colored race has been the means of arraying whites and blacks, almost solidly, in bitter political hostility toward each other, and has driven the blacks into an unnatural coalition with a horde of unscrupulous adventurers, who have thus secured the political power. The General deplores the condition into which his State has been plunged in consequence of this coalition, and says:

"I may be mistaken in supposing that a frank and cordial concession of absolute and practical civil, as well as political equality between all citizens, without discrimination on account of race or color, as proposed in this movement, would remove the last barrier which opposes the political co-operation of good men, of whatever color, for the regeneration of the State; but I am earnest in my conviction that I am not mistaken."

"Experience seems, at all events, to have demonstrated two propositions quite conclusively, viz: 1st, that without such co operation the redemption of the State is impracticable; 2d, that such co-operation cannot be secured on any other terms."

He is profoundly convinced that no sound and lasting system of political philosophy can be constructed under existing facts in Louisiana, which does not recognize such equality. Says the writer:

"We are bound to give this great experiment of Republican self-government, on the basis of impartial suffrage, a fair trial; and as long as we assume a position antagonistic in principle to his rights, and thereby drive the colored man into opposition to us, it harm results we must lay the blame upon ourselves, rather than on the system.

I am persuaded that the natural relation between the white and colored people is that of friendship. I am persuaded that their interests are identical; that their destinies, in this State where the two races are equally divided, are linked together; and that there is no prosperity for Louisiana which must not be the result of their co-operation.

"I am equally convinced that the evils anticipated by some from the practical enforcement of equal rights, are mostly imaginary, and that the relation of the races in the exercise of these rights will speedily adjust themselves to the satisfaction of all."

* * * * *

"I have not proposed to myself any advantages from the resolutions referred to. I do not seek or desire office or emoluments. I have in view but the restoration of Louisiana to the place of honor from which she has fallen.

"I surrender no principle, nor do I separate from any friends. I unite with those who, upon a candid consideration of the circumstances they do not control, have to extract from them the greatest amount of good that they allow of.

"If there be any who can propose other and better means, I shall not be backward in adopting them. But it is very clear to my mind that the strength of a State consists in the harmonious, cordial, contented union of all the good men of the community in honest efforts for the improvement and progress of the whole. It is equally clear that strife, discord, disunion and distracted efforts and pursuits will produce nothing but weakness and disappointment. The base, selfish, unscrupulous and mercenary always profit from confusion, disorder and the disintegration of society.

"This is a full, candid, and to my mind, accurate view of the situation, and I shall regulate my conduct accordingly, so as to free ourselves from "carpet-bag" rule, and the improper interference of the Federal Government in our State affairs."

The reader can pass judgment upon this proposition of political and social unification. Many of the friends of the General claim that his health is failing him. The New York Tribune makes the following comment:

"We do not know that the conditions are yet favorable for the change which is attempted in Louisiana. We are not certain that the whites as a body are yet prepared to put away inveterate prejudices, or that the colored people have yet sufficient education and independence of character to disregard the mischievous lessons taught them during the last eight years. But we know that a great change is approaching, steadily, though perhaps slowly, and we look upon the proposed "unification" in Louisiana as one of its most cheering indications."

A BEAUTIFUL SOUTHERN POEM.

Among the poets of the South who have succeeded in not only invoking the softest touches of the Muse since the late unfortunate struggle between the North and South, but who have struck a tender chord in every Southern breast, is Capt. James Baron Hope, of Norfolk, Va. We have read many beautiful poems from his pen, but none more touching than the following, delivered upon the occasion of the unveiling of the monument to the Confederate dead in the cemetery at Warrenton, Va., on the 28th of June:

VIRGINIA'S DAUGHTER'S TO VIRGINIA'S DEFENDERS.

A MEMORIAL ODE.

BY CAPT. JAMES BARRON HOPE.

"We live in an age that makes truth pass for treason."—Algernon Sidney, from the scaffold, December 7th, 1863.

"Living," as noble Sidney said—
Sidney whose fame with time expands—
In a hard age where simple "truth"
For deadly "treason" stands.

We come to raise this mournful shaft
Above the consecrated dust
Of heroes who laid down their lives
For what they deemed most just.

Antigone herself was not
More tender in her pious care
Of her dead brother, than to-day
Virginia's daughters are.

Of their dead brothers, who now sleep
Beneath this ever-hallowed sod,
Where floral epitaphs will bloom
All written by our God.

And were that fate reserved for us
Described by macthless Sophocles,
Still would we come with loving hands,
And on our bended knees.

Heap up the turf—heave high the shaft—
Pay homage to these cold remains—
And testify their cause went down
Free from dishonor's stains.

No brutal Creon here may cry:
"Off from your dead!" No sentry's gun
Shall drive the stricken mother's foot
Back from her sleeping son.

The bravest of the brave who fought
Against us pay them honors due,
And such would plant above these graves
The laurel and the yew.

II.

Here all is peace, for them at last,
Deep as some tropic island's calm,
When hyms rise from the breakers and
Responses from the palm.

Here thoughtful pilgrims yet shall stand,
As fades the even's mellowed light,
And gazing on this shaft will read
That "God shall judge the right."*

To him, and to the world, they've left
Their mighty Epic's wondrous song,
More than Homeric in its swell,
In Faith and Duty strong!

III.

Unknown of men, here may sleep,
Within this grave-yard's tender gloom—
Unknown, because a Vanda. foe
Assailed each quiet tomb.

The rustic head-boards which once marked
Each valiant warrior's silent post
Flamed in barbaric camp-fires when
The head-long, raiding host

Swept this calm spot with cruel hoof
And sought to work these sleepers shame;
But not unknown of God they sleep—
He knows the sep'rate name

Of each slain hero. Here He sends
His gentle dews—His generous grass
Here spreads in Heaven's own charity
As Springs and Summers pass.

IV.

They need no Almoners to Fame
To give them laurels crown or bust;
Their deeds will live when shaft and urn
Have crumbled into dust!

No "Old Mortality" need e'er
Come hither in his pious mood—
Here the Historic Muse will stand
And proud Tradition brood!

A Roman Emperor, when death
Stood full before his steadfast eye,
Cried out and said: "Come, lift me up,
For I would standing die,"

And THEY died standing in the cause
Of the great South, on Honor's field—
Here every patriot hero sleeps
On "unsurrendered shield,"*

This is the record on the stone
Which tells their story for all time,
And generations yet unborn
Shall call ther fate sublime.

V.

From all the South they came to us—
For Freedom valiantly they bled,
And sleep upon Virginia's breast
Embraced with her own dead.

Twice victors on the self-same field
Where once their columns swept the plain
Our mother takes them to her heart—
They did not die in vain!

No, not in vain! They leave behind
Their history of duty done—
Of pangs and agonies endured,
And many a red field won.

When Summer's suns blazed in the blue
And changed it to a brazen arch,
And dried the streams, they struggled on
The hot and dusty march.

When Winter's blasts pierced through their frames,
Untented in the fields they lay,
And braved the bitter frosts of night,
The sleets and snows of day.

When battle called them forth to bleed,
Proudly they marched, though clad in rags.
And as they died, like soldiers true,
They fell around their flags.

O, glorious Flag! O, righteous Cause!
O, glorious struggle to be free!
O, glorious sleepers! Ye, indeed,
Were fit to follow Lee!

Regarding the cholera in Eastern Europe, the British Medical Journal says, that during the first half of May there were 175 new cases of cholera in Pesth and 33 in Buda. The total number of cases in the two cities during the same period was 304, of whom 101 recovered and 113 died.

It is claimed that an old silver mine has been discovered at the Grape Yard, in Sevier county, Tenn. Pikes, spades and crucibles, and lumps of almost pure silver were found in it. It is supposed the mine had been worked in ancient times.

A letter from Manassas, Virginia, to the Washington Star, says that a number of Northern men are at present in that locality looking at farms, with a view of purchasing, and that a colony of twenty-five families from Michigan are about to locate there.

Fourteen doctors of medicine, eight bachelors of law, three civil engineers, three civil and mining engineers, two bachelors of science, one bachelor of arts, and three masters of arts. This is the roll of graduates at the University of Virginia for the present year.

The Boston Transcript announces that Senator Sumner will spend the warm weather in Massachusetts, and will soon leave Washington. His condition has greatly improved within six months past. To all appearances he is now on the high road to health.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BILLOUS.—If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Billiousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. Sold by all first-class druggists.

How unnecessary the anguish many persons undergo from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, toothache and earache. We say unnecessary because the application of Mexican Mustang Liniment to the affected part, or a few drops of it in the ears or tooth, affords instantaneous, and what is better, permanent relief. For cuts, wounds, bruises, swellings, and all injuries or diseases which require treatment externally, this liniment is everywhere regarded as the most potent and reliable healing agent in existence. For all external injuries or ailments of horses and cattle, it is infallible.

His Honor, HENRY POTTER, late Judge of the United States Court for the District of North Carolina, gave the following as his opinion of Beckwith's Pills:

"For some ten or twelve years past I have been in the habit of using DR. BECKWITH'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS in my family, and consider them so valuable a domestic medicine, that I never suffer my stock to be exhausted. I have used them with good effect in dyspeptic cases, under various modifications, and have found them efficacious in relieving from Sick Headache, and from all the usual symptoms of functional derangement of the viscera. As an apperient, they are excellent. I have long had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with the inventor of these Pills. He is a gentleman of talents, integrity and worth, and he ranks high in the science of medicine and the healing art.
H. POTTER."

WEDNESDAY.....JULY 9, 1873.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Corn is 78 cents per bushel in Newbern.

Only 191 carts came into the Wilmington market last week.

Newbern had a good time on the 4th, and greatly rejoices thereat.

The Goldsboro section had a heavy rain storm on Friday night.

Goldsboro is about to make another desperate effort to obtain gas.

A Grange was organized last week in Kinston with J. T. Askew as Master.

The Robesonian brought $975 in cash. A very low price for such a valuable paper.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the N. C. R R. is to be held in Salisbury on the 10th inst.

A temperance and Sunday School celebration comes off on Saturday at Mineral Springs, Mecklenburg county.

Last week it required 37 beeves, 2 hogs, 73 sheep and 5 calves to assuage the appetite of the Wilmingtonians.

The negro excursionists from Wilmington to Goldsboro on the 4th, acted in a very disorderly manner at Magnolia.

The Southern Home learns that Col. J. P. Thomas, late Commandant of the Arsenal at Columbia, S. C., is negotiating for the lease of the grounds and buildings of the Military Institute at Charlotte.

The regatta on Wrightsville Sound took place on the immortal 4th, and all Wilmington rejoiced. According to the papers of that city it was a grand and enjoyable affair, and we are willing to believe them. Fifteen boats entered. The successful boats were the "Carolina," the "Little Sister" and the "Qui Vive." The "Carolina" came in in 1 hour, 33 minutes and 45 seconds; the "Little Sister" in 1 hour, 34 minutes and 5 seconds; and the "Qui Vive" in 1 hour, 38 minutes and 4 seconds. Wm. A Wright, Esq., delivered the prizes to the victors in his usual eloquent manner.

Says the Charlotte Democrat of the 7th inst: "We learn that yesterday (Sunday, July 6th,) the Rev. J. C. Williams, the pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Hopewell, in this county, was suddenly struck down by a stroke of paralysis while in his pulpit. He had just finished reading the morning lesson and had sat down, when his head was observed to drop forward. Two or three members of the congregation hurried to him but found him speechless and helpless. He was still alive late Sunday evening. Mr. Williams was about 52 years of age—was a popular minister and much beloved by his congregation.

A writer in the Charlotte Observer of recent date says:

"In your editorial in relation to the advance of freights by the Security Company, you stated that they had raised freights from 15 to 20 per cent. We learn from some of our merchants that they are paying 50 per cent. and even more on some portions of their freights. This advance of charges on the industry and labor of the country will amount to an increase of tax on the producers of Western North Carolina of several hundred thousand dollars annually. This tax comes off of the producers and laborers of the country, because they are the great consumers of nine-tenths of what is shipped into the country, and raise nearly all that is shipped from it. It is the toil and labor of the country that will have to bear these burdens, imposed upon it by foreigners who have no interest in the prosperity or development of our country. But the merchant, the mechanic, the doctor, and the lawyer, will all feel it, as it will impair the great agricultural interest, which to a great degree supports all other pursuits. When then will these exactions on the labor and capital of the country cease? When will remorseless corporations cease to levy further exactions? What security have we of the future against these corporations owned and controlled entirely by foreigners?"

A PROPOSAL TO MISS GREELEY.—The New York Herald is our authority for the following: A man calling himself C. N. Hudson, 36 years of age, a native of Vermont, a carpenter by trade, was locked up in the county jail at White Plains yesterday, under the following singular circumstances: On Wednesday or Thursday last he called at the Greeley homestead at Chappaqua, and obtaining an interview with Miss Ida Greeley, told her that a vision had appeared to him and informed him that he must marry a young lady now attired in mourning. On further inquiring of the spirit who the lady was, and where he would find her, he was informed that the lady referred to was Miss Greeley; whereupon he at once set out on his mission to find that lady, and had walked more than 1,000 miles in the pursuit of his object. Miss Greeley was naturally much amused and astonished at receiving such a visit, but gave her visitor to understand that he had come on a foolish errand. Mr. Hudson became more demonstrative in pleading his cause than was agreeable, and she soon found herself under the necessity of sending for Justice Hyatt, of New Castle, who took her complaint and held the Vermonter to bail in the sum of $500 to keep the peace, which not being forthcoming, he was conveyed to the county jail.

THE FASHION IN FANS.—Large or rather immense fans are now "the go." Doubtless these trianon fans will become the "rage." They are antique in style, and yet do not belong altogether to the ancients. There is an air of our modern frivolity about the trianon fan that does not make it appear altogether odd and unfamiliar to us. The largest fan is 14 inches long, and when spread, it is 41 inches across; those that are ornamented with floral offerings have the flowers painted on silk. The largest part of the boquet is arranged on the right-hand corner, and the sprays creep nearly across the fan. Some of the designs are embroidered by hand; these are very rich-looking, and can be worn with almost every style of dress.

Professor Henry Morely has just published in England his long promised "First Sketch of English Literature." The "sketch" is 912 pages long.

The English Parliament has recently had under discussion the "Factory Act Amendment Bill." Its aim is to render the lives of the women and children in the English factories more endurable. It limits their hours of labor, determines in the case of the children the age at which they shall be put to work, and gives them a proper interval in which to take their meals. The most effective argument was as to the women operatives, one that we have never seen used before. It was the frightful increase in the mortality of the young children of those who were married. Said one of the speakers:

These factory women were to be seen in the streets at half-past five in the morning running with their infants to a 'leaving shop" to leave them there for the day, and perhaps husbands helping to carry the children. The average death-rate of infants under one year was in England and Wales 17,731 in 100,000; but in Stockport in 1870-'71, it was 24,350, Macclesfield 18,877, Bolton 21,750, Ashton 22,300, and so on. Of 100,000 women between 15 and 35 the average death rate in England and Wales was 919.

A Northern writer wants the young ladies who go to our fashionable springs and watering places to change the usual uselessness and insane round of bowling, flirting, boating, dancing and lounging. He says in disgust, "Last year I was at a notorious seaside resort, and these were the public amusements, apart from novels and newspapers in vogue; sailing, and sometimes deep-sea fishing, picking up shells and kelp; the bowling alley, with effervescent sarsaparilla and doubtful fruit; the billiard saloon, filled with the potent fumes of stale tobacco, and the bathing ground. The access to this last was by miserable shanties that filled me with a suspicion of their cleanliness, and certified me of the presence of sand inside as well as outside the rude planking of which they were composed."

The St. Louis Republican has information of the existence of a secret organization, entirely distinct from the granges of the Patrons of Husbandry, known as "The League of Justice." The primary object of this league is represented to be the repudiation of the railroad bonds issued by various county, towns and municipal governments throughout the North-Western States, and the seizure and common division of lands that have been granted away to corporations by the United States Congress. It is claimed that the league is established in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri, and is making headway in Texas, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. A membership of 260,000 is claimed in the various States.

English journals are telling us of a new ink, or a new form of ink, which eclipses the merits of old-time ink powders. It is called "Graphine," and is a prepared paper. On cutting off a little bit no bigger than one's finger nail, and soaking it it a tablespoonful of water, it will produce a beautiful purple-colored ink. This condensed writing ink, can, like court plaster, be carried about in the pocket-book, and no traveler need in future take an inkstand with him on his journey.

A fiend in human shape, committed an outrage upon a girl in Baltimore a few nights since. The girl was only 4 years and 5 months old. The monster is in jail. The code fixes his punishment at death upon the gallows.

John Mitchell has written a new book on the Irish question. He is said to be in bad health.

WEDNESDAY ..... JULY 9, 1873.

KIND THOUGHT.

Let us cherish a memory for pleasant things,
And let all the others go;
It is never by giving "tit for tat"
That we touch the heart of a foe.
It is not by dwelling on fancied wrongs
That we feel their sting grow less;
And malice once entering the heart is sure
To crush out all tenderness.

Forgive, forget, though the wrong be great,
And your heart been stricken sore;
For thinking of trouble makes it worse,
And its pain all the more.
Do kindly things to your neighbors, e'en
Though they do not so to you.
Though they be wrong, unjust, unkind,
Keep your own heart ever true.

The heart is a garden, our thoughts are flowers,
That spring into fruitful life;
Have care that in sowing there fall no seed
From the weed of cruel strife.
Oh! loving words are not hard to say,
If the heart be loving too;
And the kinder the thoughts you give to others,
The kinder their thoughts of you.
—Hope Arbor.

The Mother as a Hair Cutter.

The Danbury News man says you can always tell a boy whose mother cuts his hair. Not because the edges of it look as if it had been chawed off by an absent-minded horse, but you can tell it by the way he stops on the street and wriggles his shoulders. When a fond mother has cut her boy's hair she is careful to guard against any annoyance and muss by laying a sheet on the carpet. It has never yet occurred to her to sit him over a bare floor and put the sheet around his neck. Then she draws the front hair over his eyes and leaves it there while she cuts that which is at the back. The hair which lies over his eyes appears to be surcharged with electric needles, and that which is silently dropping down under his shirt band appears to be on fire. She has unconsciously continued to push his head forward until his nose pressed his breast, and is too busily engaged to notice the snuffling sound that is becoming alarmingly frequent. In the mean time he is seized with an irresistible desire to blow his nose, but recollects that his handkerchief is in the other room. Then a fly lights on his nose, and does it so unexpectedly that he involuntarily dodges, and catches the points of the shears in his left ear. At this he commences to cry and wish he was a man. But his mother doesn't notice him. She merely hits him on the other ear to inspire confidence, and goes on with the work. When she is through she holds his jacket collar back from his neck, and with her mouth blows the short bits of hair from the top of his head down his back. He calls her attention to this fact, but she looks for a new place on his head and hits him there, and asks him why he didn't use his handkerchief. Then he takes his awfully disfigured head to the mirrow and looks at it, and, young as he is, shudders as he thinks of what the boys on the street will say.

How the Apaches Pop the Question.

Even those copper colored cut-throats, the Apache Indians, have a touch of delicacy and romance in them. From a lecture delivered in San Francisco by Colonel John C. Garmany, we take the following account of their courting customs: Every young girl is at liberty to refuse a suitor for her hand. The father, mother and brother are prohibited from interfering in her choice. Her person is at her own disposal. After a brief courtship the lover makes a formal proposal by offering so many horses. Horses are considered a standard of value among Indians. As the squaw does all the work, horses are accepted as an equivalent for her labor. When a young warrior becomes enamored he fastens his horse near the wigwam of the squaw whose hand he seeks, where he is left four days. If she fails to feed and water the horse during that time the master is rejected, but if she accepts his offer she grooms and kindly cares for the horse, and then ties him to the wigwam of her lover, as much as to say, "I am willing to be your slave and do your work." At the marriage the sages and sachems meet together, and the bride is not unfrequently loaded with forty to fifty pounds of silver and copper trinkets.

Dooley's Yeast Powder cannot be excelled for making light, sweet Rolls, Biscuits, Waffles, Corn Bread, &c. It is always ready and reliable.
